The purpose of this yoga site

We're more than showing Hatha Postures. We organise events to help others

The global idea about this Satoshi.Yoga web site is to promote wellness via the practice of yoga. There are few web spaces on the internet that allows visitors to find serious yoga teachers and vice and versa. Indeed, yoga teachers are not all the same. Some have done their classes, others did less. In the world of yoga and via our community, you will discover intelligent and kind individuals who have one mission in life: be the change (like Mahatma Ghandi said) via the yoga tools we have learned to use over the years.

It takes several years for an authentic spiritual guide to be what they are. We help you discover them via the WebCasts we produce.

Sometimes, young and inexperienced individuals will get hacked of their self esteem. We help those who are asking themselves basic and noble questions. Per example, can you talk about who you are without associating some materialistic ideas? Yound people these days have their values all mixed up. They sign up for all kind of online courses and after they sent their money, they start taking an online passive pre-recorded course that does not deliver the essentials. The essentials are well described by Maslow, we know what they are. Yet, a feeling of emptiness will sometimes re-surface after a certain time.

Be generous AND careful. Be generous and concious that we take a lot of time to produce quality content.

Tks in advance.

Yoga means union

This fundraising page is about helping us continue what we started

With your donation, we give you a safe and stable wiki web environement where you can create your own page. We love technology and we're anchored in authenticity. We aim at presenting to our uses the best in safe technology. Updating our plateform all the time. In short, we tend to go toward the Web 3.0 such as using the Blockchain to authenticate our members and rewarding them as they work on building this plateform via smart contracts.

Our objective, with this crowdfunding endeavour is to pay forward to those who need or ask for help. We have but one purpose. Have our own Distributed Autonomous Organisation (aka DAO) so that we can share our own token with yoga affectionados.

If you can give time, that is also valuable

Some will donate objects, like books, yoga mats, malas, etc. Others prefer to donate their time. Per example, we need translators. Therefore, please contact Daniel via this multifunctional enquiry form. We have other means to raise funds. Per example, we print T-Shirts, we offer social media services, etc.
